The first price named for the pamphlet would not, on the orders given, cover the cost of printing, and would not warrant the publication. The price now named will barely do this, postage to be added. Fortunately the lowest prices have been secured for engraving and printing of illustration and text. There has been no fund to draw upon. All the work of preparing for the anniversary and that of preparing the record has been performed without compensation. The extended correspondence by different ones has been no little expense. The reward must be the pleasure afforded those interested, and the aid which it is hoped may accrue to the renewal of interest in the Academy and...

This type of publication is almost everything and helped me looking forward and much more. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You wont really feel monotony at whenever you want of your own time (that's what catalogs are for relating to if you ask me).
