Excerpt from Steamship Subsidies: Objections to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Plea for a Subsidy The late subsidy of $500,000 per year to the Pacific Mail Steam Ship Company, for a mail service between San Francisco and China, via Japan, which was authorized by Congress in 1866, and under which the Company received $5,000,000 from the United States Treasury, expired by limitation of time at the close of 1876. The Steamship Company applied to the last Congress for a renewal of the contract at the same rate of payment, and succeeded in obtaining a favorable report from the Postal Committee of the Senate, followed by an amendment to the general postal appropriation bill, providing for a payment of $500,000 for the current year. Fortunately for the country, the House of Representatives refused to concur in the Senate's amendment. The application to Congress is renewed at the present session, and as it has for its object the endowment of a commercial company (working for private gain), with a large annual payment from the public Treasury, it...
