Fallen from Grace but Not from Perfection is an advanced defense for unconditional security (also popularly known as eternal security) that demonstrates that believers who fall from grace do not fall from a state of soteriological perfection. The primary texts dealt with in the first chapter describe the possibility of believers falling from grace, falling short of grace, and being cut off from grace. The Calvinistic contention that genuine believers persevere in grace is shown to have proverbial limitations. Arminians are correct to deduce that genuine believers genuinely can fall from grace. Notwithstanding, a distinction between merited grace and unmerited grace is shown to be biblical. Merited forms of grace naturally are forfeitable. Fallen believers are still considered children of God; they do not fall from the state of grace. They are illegitimate children of God who forfeit the inheritance rights to which they otherwise would be entitled. Nevertheless, they remain children of God who qualify for entrance into heaven by virtue of God's unmerited grace. The second chapter demonstrates that believers cannot fall from their...
